Our policies on slavery and human trafficking

We have zero tolerance to slavery and human trafficking. We comply with all relevant laws in the way we run our businesses. Our Anti-slavery Policy reflects our commitment to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business relationships and to implementing and enforcing effective systems and controls to ensure slavery and human trafficking is not taking place anywhere in our supply chains.

To ensure all those in our supply chain and contractors comply with our values we have in place a confidential, independent whistleblowing helpline to enable staff to report suspected malpractice.

Due diligence processes for slavery and human trafficking

As part of our initiative to identify and mitigate risk we carry out proportionate checks on our new suppliers, including requiring new suppliers to complete a due diligence questionnaire.

In addition, we seek contractual assurances from key suppliers in relation to modern slavery and human trafficking compliance, particularly where those suppliers operate in, or make us part of, supply chains which present higher risks of modern slavery or human trafficking.

Training

All employees receive annual training to ensure compliance with our various policies and responsibilities. These policies are hosted on our website and/or intranet sites.

Effectiveness

We use the following key performance indicators (KPIs) to measure how effective we have been to ensure that slavery and human trafficking is not taking place in any part of our business or supply chains:

- Reviewing any investigations undertaken into reports of modern slavery (if any); and
- Reviewing staff training levels.

This statement is made pursuant to section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and constitutes our slavery and human trafficking statement for the financial year ending 31 December 2021. It was approved by the board on 14 October 2022.
